

The 23rd National Audio Visual Championship Saturday 28 and Sunday 29 September 2024

Open to ALL UK AV Enthusiasts!

The organising team for the 2024 National AV Championship is keen to ensure that not only do UK AV enthusiasts have the dates in their diary but are also aware that this championship is open to all – not just RPS members.

Alastair Taylor, Championship Chair has a message for you all:

“I’m keen to make clear that whilst the RPS AV Group are organising the event, you don’t have to be a member of the RPS, or any club or organisation for that matter. Any UK AV enthusiast is welcome to enter. Don’t get the impression we’re an elitist bunch either...first-timers will be made very welcome .... either as entrants or simply to watch the live screenings - a fabulous weekend big-screen, big-sound experience”.

He added:

“If you haven’t got this, the biggest live UK AV event in 2024 in your diary already, do it now!”

NAVC Venue

The Championship will be held at Leeds Trinity University (LS18 5HD). This has a superb lecture theatre with undoubtedly the most sophisticated projection and audio system you will experience at any UK AV event in 2024. The huge screen, for example, is full cinema specification, with tiny invisible perforations allowing the powerful, high-quality sound to come directly from the screen itself. The projector is an equally high-specification professional beast. The result? All sequences look and sound fabulous in this venue.

Leeds Trinity University is situated north-west of Leeds city centre, offering easy travel, FREE parking, and a modern and comfortable auditorium with refreshment facilities.
